

DEREK PARFIT: CONCERN OF NO ONE AS MYSELF

The article discusses the personality and legacy of Derek Parfit. He entered the history of modern metaphysics and moral philosophy as a proponent of radical Neo-Lockean view on the issues of personal identity. Denying our basic metaphysical and moral intuitions (identity for the person and moral responsibility), the so-called «Oxford Buddhist» was a fireless preacher of hyper-rational altruism. His original ideas and admirable arguments outlined only in few works were and remain at the center of philosophical discussions.

Keywords: personal identity, fission, rationality, moral action, concern
